

TEQUILAS

BLANCO/PLATA

Blanco or plata (silver) tequila is generally unaged and bottled right after distillation, but it may be aged for two months or less in stainless tanks or neutral oak barrels before bottling.

The Amazing Agave Plant

Agave piñas must be hand-harvested, one by one, by jimadors. Tequilas from the highlands of Jalisco tend to be fruitier and sweeter, while tequilas from the lowlands are often earthier.

REPOSADO

Reposado tequila is aged for more than two months but less than one year in oak barrels of any size. Reposado is considered by many tequila connoisseurs to be the most compelling expression of tequila.

MEZCAL

Most mezcal is hand-crafted by small producers, using very traditional methods. The piñas are roasted underground, in pit ovens over hot rocks. This is where mezcal gets its distinctive smoky flavor. The juice is fermented in clay or copper pots, which also adds to the rustic flavor.
